

Keep the FCC regulations

I am writing to you today to comment on Docket No. 02-277, The Biennial Review of the FCC's broadcast media ownership rules. In its goals to promote competition, diversity and localism in today's media market, I strongly believe that the FCC should retain all of the current media ownership rules now in question. These rules serve the public interest by limiting the market power of already huge companies in the broadcast industry.

One of the great things about our country is that we try to let people have access to many different opinions and views and sometimes that factor is overlooked. Don't let that happen this time with this review, please help keep an American dream alive, by not letting a handful of rich corporations control what we see and hear all day long.

Thank you,

Jordan Rose
